4.2. How Do the Tests in EGEYOS are Prepared?

4.2.1. “Basic Academic Skills Test” and “Turkish Proficiency Test”, which are administered within EGEYOS, is generated computer environment by selecting questions randomly from a wide-ranging question bank which is created by Ege University Assessment Research and Application Center (EU-ODEM).

4.2.2. Questions that are created by experts are collected in the question bank after undergoing inspection by making question difficulty and fluency projections with scientific accuracy, linguistic and visual/structural relevance, relevance to the specifications of the multiple choice test matter etc.

4.2.3. Organization and inspection of the commissions for the assignment of the question writers, gathering/selection of the questions, inspection and creation of the tests are in the responsibility of the EU-ODEM managing board.

4.3. Do I Have to Attend Both Tests in EGEYOS?

4.3.1. Those who want to get their associate degree and bachelor’s degree educations in Ege University or in universities that accept EGEYOS results, must attend the “Basic Academic Skills Test”.

4.3.2. Turkish Proficiency Test is obligatory for those who want to enroll at Ege University and cannot document their Turkish proficeny level in other ways. In other cases, candidates who wish to attend the Turkish Proficiency Test can attend.

5. EVALUATION OF THE EXAMINATION

Performances of the candidates in Basic Academic Skills Test and Turkish Proficiency Test are evaluated separately for both tests through the following procedures and criteria that are created by the EU-ODEM management board.

5.1. Reading the Test Reults

5.1.1. Optical forms of each candidate are read using double checks with two different optical readers.

5.1.2. Correct, incorrect and blank count of candidates in both tests are determined separately for each test.

5.1.3. EU-ODEM management board decides the faultiness of a question towards analyses, investigations and expert opinions that are made after the examination. In this way, the question(s) that is (are) deemed to be invalid are deducted from the test, test results are evaluated from the remaining questions and these results are considered in scoring.

5.2. Calculation of the YOS Placement Score

5.2.1. “Basic Academic Skills Test” is the main test for calculating the YOS score.

5.2.2. In this test; number of correct, incorrect or blank answers that candidates give is determined as described in the article B.6.2.

5.2.3. The number of correct answers is called “Raw Score” and one quarter of the number of incorrect answers is subtracted from the number of correct answers. The scores that gathered in this way is called “correction of scores for chance success.”

5.2.4. Arithmetic mean and standard deviation of correction of scores for chance success distribution of all candidates, whose “Basic Academic Skills Test”s are considered valid, are calculated and then those scores are turned into the “YOS standard score” (SP) with arithmetic mean to be 50 and standard deviation to be 10 using the following equation in computer environment.

$$SP = 10 \left(\frac{X_i - \bar{X}}{S} \right) + 50$$

- SP : YOS standard score
 X_i : Candidate’s correction of scores for chance success
 \bar{X} : Arithmetic mean of the correction of scores for chance success
 S : Standard deviation of the correction of scores for chance success

5.2.5. After YOS standard points are calculated, they are turned into “YOS Placement Score” (YP) over 100 with the following equation.

$$YP = 70 + \frac{30[2(SP - \bar{X}) - S]}{2(SP_{\max} - \bar{X}) - S}$$

- SP : YOS standard score
 \bar{X} : Arithmetic mean of the standard score distribution
 S : Standard deviation of the standard score distribution
 SP_{\max} : The highest standard score in the standard score distribution

5.3. Calculation of the Turkish Proficiency Score

5.3.1. “Turkish Proficiency Test” is the main test for calculating the Turkish Proficiency Score.

5.3.2. In this test, number of correct answers that candidates give is determined, incorrect answers are not taken into account.

5.3.3. Turkish Proficiency Score “TYP” is calculated over 100 by adding up the number of correct answers.

5.3.4. TYP points acquired is allocated to the proficiency levels over 100 points as shown below and is shown with TYP in the examination result document.

- “C” : 100-70
“B” : 69-40
“A” : 39-0

5.3.5. Candidates’ optical forms and answer panel is kept by EU-ODEM for 10 years.

6. ANNOUNCEMENT OF THE EXAMINATION RESULTS

Results of the examination and placement shall be announced in the “Announcements” section at the web address of the Students’ Affairs Directorate (<http://oidb.ege.edu.tr>) as previously specified in the Examination and Placement Calendar.

7. OBJECTION AGAINST EXAM RESULTS

Objection to the examination results is carried out in five (5) business days in writing to EU-ODEM Management Board Department's (E.Ü.Ölçme ve Değerlendirme Uygulama ve Araştırma Merkezi Eğitim Fakültesi Dekanlık Binası Kat:1 Ofis No: 102 35100 Bornova/İzmir) address after the announcement of examination results. Objections are concluded by EU-ODEM Management Board Department in fifteen (15) days.

8. PLACEMENT PROCEDURES

Students that get 40 points or more from EGEYOS Examination's Basic Academic Skills Test are placed according to the results of top-down sequencing of points within the framework of the quota of corresponding program.

Placements based upon a program are carried based on the national threshold of 20% within the framework of the quotas that are announced beforehand.

Candidates who gave preference to programs which are determined by OSYM that accept students with special aptitude tests (Physical Education and Sports School's and Turkish Music Conservatory's programs), must have 40 points or more from EGEYOS in order to attend the special aptitude test.

These candidates must follow the special aptitude test timetable of the corresponding school for the special aptitude test and apply for the school in person.

Placement is made considering the EGEYOS score to the programs outside the programs that accept students with special aptitude test. In case of a tie in placement scores, placement procedure is done firstly according to the secondary school grade point average and secondly to the preference order. In case of a tie after these, younger candidate is chosen. Candidates are placed to only one program. Placement starts with candidate's first preferences regardless of whether he or she attended to the special aptitude test.

In case the quotas are not filled or no application is made, only one (according to the principal placement basis) placement is made to the available quotas among the candidates who applied.

In case no application is made or the quotas are not filled in any program, quotas that are not filled or quotas that no application is made, are not transferred to the other program quotas.
