Candidates who gave preference to programs which are determined by OSYM that accept students with special aptitude tests (Physical Education and Sports School’s and Turkish Music Conservatory’s programs), must have 40 points or more from EGEYOS in order to attend the special aptitude test. These candidates must follow the special aptitude test timetable of the corresponding school for the special aptitude test and apply for the school in person. Placement is made considering the EGEYOS score to the programs outside the programs that accept students with special aptitude test. In case of a tie in placement scores, placement procedure is done firstly according to the secondary school grade point average and secondly to the preference order. In case of a tie after these, younger candidate is chosen. Candidates are placed to only one program.
